Glades may get recreational land

BELLE GLADE - Glades residents could gain a 320-acre metro-regional park and the city's golf course could be expanded to 18 holes if a plan to be presented to the Palm Beach County Commission Tuesday is approved.

The two recreational areas, plus a 2,380 acre plot of land between 20 Mile Bend and the J.W. Corbett Area, were included in a recommendation Monday night by the Palm Beach County Beach and Park Bond Issue Advisory Board. The three recommendations were the result of efforts by Board member Dudley Barnes.

The three Glades area parcels, plus four other inland parks and eight stretches of beach on the coast, totalled $30 million and make up the recommendation for what a $50 million bond issue is to be spent.

Barnes, who was appointed to the board by County Commissioner Bill Bailey, represents the Glades area said last week he was determined the Glades would receive a fair share of the bond issue.

"The most urgent need," he said, "is for a metro-regional park located close to the center of the Glades population patterns. The second priority is the need for an 18 hole golf course with a driving range."

The park Barnes is looking at would take up a 320 acre plot of land on SR15 and SR60 and would be close enough to the Palm Beach Junior College-Glades campus to be used by the college, as well as being within walking distance of the Southwest section of Belle Glade, the most densely populated area west of 20 Mile Bend, as well as Gladeview Elementary School. Barnes said an important facet of the site is that it is within 20 minutes' driving distance from any populated area in western Palm Beach County and is accessible by two main roads.

He said he envisions the park containing an olympic swimming pool, a cluster of softball fields, with one or more lighted for nighttime games, a lighted baseball field, tennis courts, handball courts, bicycle and pedestrian paths and open areas.

"Palm Beach Junior College is located directly across SR715 from the northwest corner of the proposed site," Barnes said. "The park could afford the college a well rounded athletic and recreational outlet as well as complement their physical education program."

Barnes noted that local developers are already interested in the parcel of land for housing development and expansion. He said 40 acres are now being developed on the southwest corner of the area for trailer parks and 30 more acres were recently developed as part of Sugar Subdivision West.

Noting there are already approximately 38,000 people living in western Palm Beach County and there will be an estimated 55,000 in another 12 years, Barnes said the park should accommodate the recreational needs for another 12 years.

"As areas on the coast become saturated with developments," he said, "an inland movement for additional space to accommodate population growth will place a burden on land purchasing for parks, recreation and so forth."

Barnes said the extended golf course, if the idea is approved, will be one of three parcels of land to the north, east and south of the existing golf course and country club.

"I think the ideal location would be east of the country club parking lot," he said, "but the committee wants waterfront property so a compromise will probably be reached."

Schools: There's nothing left in the bank--Cumpton

BELLE GLADE--An estimated 175 parents, educators, and community leaders packed the Glades Central High School Library Friday afternoon to let Superintendent Joseph Carroll know they were unhappy with testing programs in the schools, their effects on students, the inability of students to pass them—and education in general in the West Area.

Dr. Carroll stood for two hours in front of the group, fielding questions and comments concerning the testing program, complaints that the tests are discriminatory, complaints about the number of teachers in the West Area who don't live in the Glades and the fact some students were receiving passing grades in class but couldn't pass standardized tests.

"We don't care about the schools' internal problems," summarized Robert Cumpton of 413 NE Third St. "We all have problems but here is a human being with 12 years of preparation who isn't ready to go out into the world."

"For 2,000 years, we taught people with the same methods and put men on the moon. Now," Cumpton said, "in the last 20 or 30 years, this is no longer so. What happened?"

"As parents, we don't worry about whether our children are getting an education because they bring home report cards that show they're doing well. It's like making regular deposits in the bank but when we go to the bank to make a withdrawal, there's no money."

Carroll reiterated time and again that while there are still problems in public schools, there has been progress under his administration, pointing out statistics which in-

Candidates warned of changes

BELLE GLADE--Anyone who wants to pull the old ploy of waiting until the last minute to qualify as a candidate for the city commission in the Sept. 12 city election should think again, according to City Clerk June Boglioli, or they could find themselves in trouble.

Mrs. Boglioli, who said she'll be out of town from today until July 13, the day before the beginning of the qualifying period, pointed out Monday there are a number of changes in the election laws and suggested anyone interested in running for office come in and see her before they intend to qualify.

Among the changes Mrs. Boglioli said candidates should be aware of are:

* The need to appoint a campaign treasurer and depository in writing before qualifying.

* The need for opening the campaign account and getting printed checks and deposit slips. This is a change from last year when vouchers were used.

* A loyalty oath affirming the candidate no other public office, hasn't qualified to run for any other public office which would have a concurrent term of office, that the candidate is a qualified elector, that he hasn't broken any campaign laws and that if any funds have been spent before qualifying (this is legal for the first time this year) the candidate must file a sworn statement concerning how much was spent.

* Candidates must now file a certified copy of his financial disclosure, which is now filed with the clerk of the circuit court, with the city clerk's office.

Mrs. Boglioli said there is still a $25 filing fee for candidates.

"I just wanted to make sure anyone thinking about running for office knows there have been some changes," Mrs. Boglioli said, "because if anyone waits until the last minute of the last day to qualify, they won't be able to qualify."

She noted that the city election this year will be on Sept. 12, the same day as the first primary election for the state, and said there could be some problem getting qualified people to man the polls because most of her workers also work in county precincts.

The first day to qualify as a candidate will be July 14. The last day to qualify as a candidate will be Aug. 23 and the last day of voter registration will be Aug. 12.

Two at-large seats on the city commission will be vacated in the Sept. 12 election, those of Mayor, Commissioner Tom Altman and Commissioner Ralph Kirk.

Should the two incumbents run for re-election, it would be for Altman's third two-year term and Kirk's fifth. Candidates must reside in no particular borough and are elected citywide.

Fire gives 'final test'

SOUTH BAY--A condemned building on Palm Beach Road provided a "final exam" for volunteer firemen here last week when Fire Chief Jim Webber torched the house and then sounded the alarm.

"We'd had quite a bit of training," Webber said, "but this was a chance to see how well the volunteers would respond and how well they could handle themselves under actual fire conditions."

"Everything went beautifully," he went on, adding the training has obviously paid off. He said ten of the city's 14 volunteers, as well as the two paid men and himself, were present to fight the fire.

The building was owned by Ann Johnson of Palatka who allowed the fire department to set it afire. Webber said he set the fire at 7:15 p.m. and by 9 p.m., the fire had been broken to the ground, although he and one other man stayed on the scene until 1 a.m. to guard against any sparks reigniting.

A Belle Glade engine was used as a backup piece of equipment during the fire to guard against any spreading of the flames.

A VOLUNTEER FIREFIGHTER pours water on a blaze set last Wednesday evening as a substitution for the volunteers' regular training session.

McDonald out as Raider coach

BELLE GLADE--Glades Central High School head football coach Willie McDonald was relieved of his duties as mentor to the Raiders Friday and given the permanent position of dean of boys on the school's annex campus.

McDonald said Tuesday he had been informed by Dr. Effie C. Grear, principal of the high school, of the action Friday. He said Dr. Grear told him she had been trying for the past two years to find a replacement for him in the dean's office but had been unsuccessful so she wanted him to take the job on a permanent basis.

McDonald has been acting dean for "going on three years", since former dean Charles Todd was suspended. He said Tuesday morning he was attending classes at Nova University in pursuit of a master's degree in administration. "I'll probably continue as track coach for the boys," McDonald said, "and I hope I'll be able to work as an assistant in football but it may be junior varsity." He said his change of status would give him more time for his studies at Nova.

There were reports McDonald's replacement as head football coach next year may be Ben McCoy, who coached McDonald when he was a junior at Lakeshore High School in 1969, but as of Wednesday morning the reports couldn't be confirmed.

McCoy coached the Lakeshore High team in 1968 and 1969 before moving on to Riviera Beach. He is reportedly now in Minnesota.

Members of his family still reside in Belle Glade.

McDonald said the members of the football team weren't aware Tuesday morning of his being relieved but said he anticipated no problems in the changeover.

"We got a lot of things accomplished in spring training," he said, "and that should help him when he begins his fall drills."

Dr. Grear could not be reached for comment.

Bank to open in South Bay

SOUTH BAY--The South Bay Branch of the Bank of Belle Glade will officially open Friday. The dedication ceremony will begin at 9:15 a.m.

South Bay Mayor Billy Wells will make the welcoming remarks and Wayne Mikell, president of the Bank of Belle Glade, will be in charge of the dedication.

The building was designed to match the main office in Belle Glade as closely as possible. The architect was Chester Cone, and the builder was Lutz Construction Company.

The branch will open for business at 9:30 a.m. and will remain open until 5:30 p.m. Refreshments will be served and the public is invited. Dennis Milliron will be the new branch manager.

Black Gold committees named

BELLE GLADE - Chairmen for several sub-committees were named Thursday by Black Gold Jubilee Chairman Dolly Hand to arrange a number of events slated to take place March 23-24 during the first annual Black Gold Jubilee.

Reiterating the decision made during the last meeting that sanctioned events during the jubilee should be chaired by committee member, even if all the chairmen did were to act as liaison officers between the committee and participating groups, Mrs. Hand named a number of chairmen and held up action for other events.

One of the most important jobs was left open when Mrs. Hand said she had been informed by Mrs. Lynette Thompson that Mrs. Thompson didn't want to chair the parade during the jubilee and no one else could come up with a substitute during the meeting Thursday.

Mrs. Bee Wood agreed to chair the talent show scheduled for the 1978 festival. She chaired the Gong Show during this year's Belle Glade 50th Anniversary Celebration, the forerunner of the Black Gold Jubilee.

WSWN Radio Station disc jockey Simon Train agreed to chair the teen dance, which may be held at the Belle Glade Municipal Civic Center next year instead of at the marina, and Glades Trend publisher editor Larry Tucker agreed to chair the adult dance, which may be put on by the Lady Elks or the Elks Club next year.

An art festival, which will be a major added attraction in the Jubilee next year, was assigned to Gina Farley.

Mrs. Hand assigned the raft races to City Manager Robert Sanders, a tennis tournament to Mayor and Mrs. Tom Altman and a softball tournament to Belle Glade Herald editor Dean Jones.

City Recreational Director John Rutledge was assigned the task of coordinating a golf tournament and a number of field events to be held at the marina, including fireworks that night.

Chamber of Commerce Executive Secretary Jewel Crane said the Chamber will put on a barbecue during the afternoon of March 24 at the marina, as was done this year. Mrs. Hand said the next meeting for the committee as a whole would take place at noon on September 8.

GLADES CORRECTIONAL EMPLOYEES Donald L. Bailey, Walter N. Dixon and Melvin Jones recently participated in the Correctional Training Institute in Raiford. The three men successfully completed the 160 hour, nine semester credit course that included instruction in the Criminal Justice System, Legal Aspects of Corrections, Human Relations and firearm and first aid training. They will continue their training with an additional 160 hours on an inservice basis.

THE PATIENT'S RIGHT TO KNOW

How times have changed. Not too long ago, much about medicine and treatment of an illness was very secretive. But, nowadays people want to know what's wrong with them, what caused the problem and how fast it takes to be cured. They also want to know about the drugs they take, what they are, what they do and what the side effects may be.

We feel that these are all logical questions and in our pharmacy we carefully explain the directions for use and other pertinent information about your prescriptions.

Afghan is presented by committee

BELLE GLADE—An afghan donated by the members of the Pahokee Woman's Club was won last Thursday by Flora Blackmon of 66 Roosevelt St. in Belle Glade in a drawing held during the regular meeting of the Palm Beach County Mental Health Association's Glades Advisory Committee.

The afghan was made by Mrs. Violet Hitchcock of 282 Laguna Dr. in Pahokee and the Woman's Club turned over $500 to the Glades branch of the mental health group, according to Director Jean Cogar.

On the same afternoon, Dr. Alex Villalobos of the center will also present a workshop on stress to the members of the nursing staff of the Palm Beach County Health Department. Belle Glade center, Everglades Memorial Hospital and Glades General Hospital.

Christian Comments

By Bill Anderson
Pastor, First Baptist Church
South Bay

Philosophers have noted the vast difference between man and beasts and have tried to find that difference in one or another distinguishing characteristic. They have said, for instance, that man is the thinking animal, or that he is the laughing animal, or that he is the only animal with a conscience. The one mark, however, which forever distinguishes man from all other forms of life on earth is that he is a worshiper; he has a bent toward and a capacity for worship.

Apart from his position as a worshiper of God, man has no sure key to his own being; he is but a higher animal, being born much as any other animal, going through the cycle of his life here on earth and dying at last without knowing what the whole thing is about. If that is all for him if he has no more reason than the beast for living, then it is an odd thing indeed that he is the only one of the animals that worries about himself, that wonders, that asks questions of the universe. The very fact that he does these things tells the wise man that somewhere there is One to whom he owes allegiance. One before whom he should kneel and do homage.

The Christian tells us that that One is God the Father Almighty, maker of heaven and earth, who is to be worshiped in the Spirit in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord. That is enough for us. Without trying to reason it out we may proceed from there. All our debts we meet with faith's wondering affirmation. "O Lord God, thou knowest," an utterance which Samuel Taylor Coleridge declared to be the profoundest in human speech.

In worship several elements may be distinguished, among them love, admiration, wonder and adoration. Though they may not be experienced in that order, a little thought will reveal those elements as being present, wherever true worship is found.

AN AFGHAN was won last week by Flora Blackmon of Belle Glade during a drawing by the Glades branch of the county Mental Health Association. Pahokee Woman's Club member Jeanette Johnson holds the bag of tickets while Steering Committee and District Nine board member Harvey Poole Sr. holds the winning ticket. Steering Committee Member Vivian McKinstrey holds the afghan while committee secretary Evelyn Johnson watches.

In the summer,
more than the temperature
goes up.
Here are some things you can do about it.

Your electric bill goes up, too. Because you use more electricity in the summer to keep cool, air conditioning costs actually could account for half of your bill.

With higher consumption, the cost per kwh of electricity increases.

So here are some tips on how to keep your cool (and your bill down). First, don't overcool. Set your thermostat as close to 78 as is comfortable.

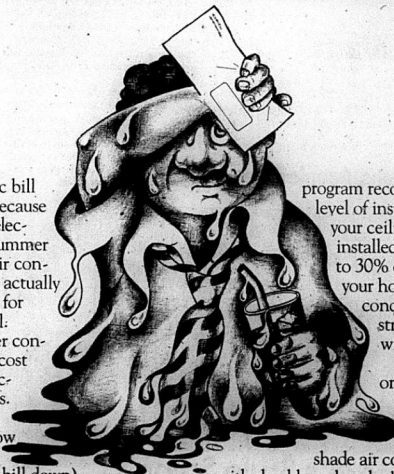

Take advantage of the most effective insulation. FPL's Watt-Wise Living™ program recommends the R-19 level of insulation in your ceiling. Properly installed, it could save up to 30% on cooling costs if your house is fully air-conditioned. Weather strip doors and windows.

Use light colors on walls and roof to reflect the sun. Shade your windows. Also shade air conditioning units with shrubbery, but don't block the air flow.

Folders on insulation and ways to save on electricity are available at your local FPL office.

dicating a steadily decreasing number of failures in exams.

The exams include the state-mandated functional literacy test, the county-administered Adult Performance Level (APL) exam and testing being done under the pupil progression plan.

Carroll displayed several charts of statistics which indicated the number of failures in all areas has been dropping.

Glades Central teacher Bert Ward began the meeting with a presentation on the type of information parents receive to indicate how their children are doing and on how difficult it has been to get information.

Ward said during the June 7 school board meeting in West Palm Beach that he believed if parents and people in the community had accurate information on how the students were faring, the public wouldn't stand for it.

He was at that time told by Dr. Carroll West Area Superintendent of Education H.W. "Dick" Berryman he could have access to any information which didn't apply specifically to individual students.

During the meeting Friday he said he had come across information which was denied him by administrators. He went on to say, however, that as soon as he made the request for the information to

2 boys arrested after damaging tractors

BELLE GLADE — A pair of juveniles were released to the custody of their parents Monday after being arrested by deputy sheriffs for doing more than $12,000 damage to 11 tractors on three area farms Saturday afternoon.

The two boys were picked up by deputies after representatives from Closter Farms, Okelanta, Food Division of Gulf & Western and Hundley Farms reported the damaged tractors Monday morning.

A witness said he saw the two youths riding a motorcycle around the area where Closter and Hundley Farms adjoin near the end of Brown's Farm Road Saturday afternoon. Deputies used the description given to arrest the two, who reportedly admitted doing all the damage on all three farms.

The most damage was done on Okelanta property, where six tractors, according to a report by John McCant, chief of security for the corporation, were damaged.

McCant said a D-4 Caterpillar tractor had been started and used to ram another tractor, ripping off the radiator and doing other damage, including possibly burning up the Cat's engine to the tune of an estimated $5,000 damage.

An estimated $500 damage was done to a $60,000 John Deere tractor which had been rammed and three other tractors received an estimated total of $100 damages to fluid-carrying lines.

George Campa, first manager of Closter Farms, reported three tractors near the junction of Closter and Hundley Farms were vandalized.

Campa said one tractor with a six row discer was started and driven into a canal and completely submerged, doing an estimated $6,000 damages and a tractor and a spraying rig on the same site was driven into a canal while the third was overturned, breaking off the hitch.

Prior to this, Campa reported, the last tractor had been used to plow up a half acre of standing sugar cane worth an estimated $350. Campa estimated $100 worth of damage was done to the overturned tractor and predicted it would cost at least $500 to pull the other two tractors from the canal.

John Hundley reported a backhoe was started on his property and run into a canal and a Cat D-6 was started and left running in a field, where it dug itself into the ground. Hundley estimated it would cost

Berryman, "he didn't say anything, just pointed at the telephone and told his secretary, 'Get it.'"

On informing parents on how their children are doing in school, Ward said the average parent probably wouldn't know what was meant when they were told their children were performing in Staines of given numbers.

He explained the Staines were segments of a bell curve but pointed out that unless one knew what the results were compared to, the numbers would be meaningless. He said the schools ought to go back to the old grade point average.

"I think it might be better to go back to grand point averages too," Carroll said, "but I also think percentages have their value too."

Mrs. Evelyn Bolden said she understood the report card brought home by her daughter but the report was useless. "She made four 'S's and one 'Plus' in reading," Mrs. Bolden said, "and when she took the (Pupil Progression) test, she failed reading. That paper doesn't mean anything."

Mrs. Bolden went on to complain that her daughter had the same lives on the coast and by the time she (Mrs. Bolden) gets home from work, the teacher is in West Palm Beach.

$200 to retrieve the two tractors but he had no idea how much damage was done to the equipment.

ed by going for the land north or south of the course."

The major advantage of the eastern property would be the northern or southern property would be the W.W. Corbett area, some way to cross SR717 would have to be found and to go south, golfers would have to cross Hillsboro Canal.

Barnes said he doesn't think boxer whose two crossings would be an insurmountable obstacle, saying a bridge over the road or the canal could probably be constructed without too much cost.

Because of present course, along with the land occupied by the country club and parking lot, consists of approximately 50 acres and Barnes said the additional land would be over 100 acres, he said the best idea would probably be to take out two holes, spread the other holes and add the remainder to the new parcel, along with a driving range.

Barnes said the third parcel he has been pushing for is the 2,380 acres immediately south of the W.W. Corbett area, which would benefit people from either the coast or from the Glades.

"This site could be set aside for possible development at a later date," Barnes said, noting the estimated cost of land in the "and would increase our passive recreational environmental acreage."

"A portion of this parcel could be set aside for airboats and hunters," he said. Barnes also noted he felt the development cost of the metro-regional park and the golf course addition should be paid out of the Beach and Park Bond Issue.

County Commissioner Bill Bailey said a number of county residents have always considered the beach bond issue, since the time the commission was trying to get it passed in a referendum, was only meant to purchase beachfront property but added the parks have been an integral part of the proposal from the beginning.

"Dudley has done a good job in getting these parks proposed for the Glades," Bailey said. He said he expected the county commission to act on the recommendations about 30 days after the presentation is made to the board next Tuesday.

made about the number of teachers in Glades school who commute from the Palm Beach area and one winnow complained she thought there ought to be more black teachers in the Glades to conform with the 80-20 ratio of black to non-black students in public schools here.

Superintendent-designate Thomas Mills, who sat quietly through most of the meeting, reacted strongly to the suggestion, saying he wanted to keep race out of the issue.

He said he had heard in a predominantly white school where he was principal the opinion that Blacks can't teach. "A good teacher," he said, "Black or White, can teach Black or White kids. We need to get off this race kick and get qualified teachers."

In other comments: "Despite the statistics offered by Dr. Carroll, Florida Rural Legal Services Attorney Jake Rose said that while Carroll could show the school system could show improvement for white students, the same couldn't be said for Black students."

Wayne Boynton offered as motivation for boys to pass the APL and functional literacy tests a proposed resolution by the school board to prohibit extracurricular activities such as participating in band and sports to students who have failed one of the exams and who aren't eligible to graduate.

Delores Johnson said she believed the key to be parent involvement and Mills said it might help to organize a committee of parents and educators in the West Area to isolate particular problems and offer solutions.

Calvin Darville advised Mills to "surround yourself with people who will tell it like it is instead of what they think you want to hear."

Glades Central teacher Sam Lovell said he didn't think the administration is going to do anything about the problems until the school board demands it and the school board won't do anything until the public demands it of them.

Glades Central band director Willis Pyfrom said he feels part of the problem is an historical attitude on the part of teachers that Black students can't perform so why demand that they live up to high standards.

When it was charged the APL test discriminates against Black students because it has little relationship with their needs and backgrounds, Carroll noted that, "If you can find one employer who has two or three employment application blanks, they will make your point." He said the idea behind education is to get people off welfare rolls by giving them the tools to make their own way in society instead of depending on society to make their way for them.

FLORIDA DEPARTMENT OF TRANSPORTATION
SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT
Right of Way Purchase
LOCATION

The Florida Department of Transportation announces that the purchase of rights of way on State Project No. 2010-004, SR-520/57, N.W. P.O. 288, Budget Item No. 41811 in Palm Beach County began on June 8, 1978. The right of way now being acquired is located from State Road 827 to 0.3 miles South of FPL Sub-Station.

Those persons that must relocate due to the Project have been initially contacted by the Department's Right of Way Agents in connection with the Relocation Program.

PROTECT YOUR ELIGIBILITY
In order to qualify for moving costs and possible replacement housing payments, the property must be acquired by the Department and occupied either when negotiations for purchase of the property commences or when the property is acquired by the Department. As an eligibility condition for replacement housing payments, the initial occupant must be in occupancy at the initiation of negotiations, or at the time a written notice of the State's intent to acquire the property is issued; the subsequent occupant must be in occupancy at the time the property is acquired. Replacement housing payments may include additional costs necessary to purchase replacement housing, compensation for the loss of favorable financing on existing mortgages in the financing of replacement housing, reimbursement for certain costs incident to the purchase of replacement housing or an amount necessary to make a downpayment on the purchase of replacement housing, or a rent supplement payment.

In addition to actual reasonable moving expenses, business firms and non-profit organizations located in the project area are presently contemplating moving, to insure the eligibility for moving expenses and replacement housing payments, he should notify the Department of Transportation before moving.

FIELD OFFICE ESTABLISHED
Relocation assistance offices have been established at 1317 North East Fourth Avenue, Fort Lauderdale, to assist the displaced occupants in finding new quarters and to explain the eligibility requirements to receive applicable payments, and the reimbursement of these payments.

This office will be open on Monday to Friday, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. A comprehensive service brochure entitled "Your Relocation," describing the relocation program can be obtained at this office or through the Department's Right of Way Agents.

FEDERAL PARTICIPATION
As this project will be financed with Federal-Aid Highway funds, construction authorization will not be granted until the Federal Highway Administration is satisfied that there is sufficient federal aid and auxiliary housing in the area available to persons who are displaced because of the project, and that such persons are informed of its availability. No person shall be displaced from his residence required for a Federal or Federal-aid project unless comparable replacement dwellings are available or provided for initial occupants, or adequate replacement dwellings are available or provided for subsequent occupants. Additionally, relocation assistance payments must have been made available to eligible occupants and such affected occupants must have been allowed sufficient time to obtain possession of housing that is within their financial means and available without regard to race, color, religion, sex and national origin.

SCHEDULE
The Department anticipates that all facilities and houses will be replaced in approximately 21 months prior to the advancement of the construction contract.

Site change approved

BELLE GLADE—A new location for the proposed Chamber of Commerce building in the southeast corner of McDonald Park, instead of the formerly proposed site in the northeast corner, was agreed to last Thursday by the Chamber board of directors.

"I'm well satisfied with the location," said Chamber President Dale Stapp. "We wanted the northeast corner but there is a problem there with traffic turning left off Avenue E behind the building."

The new site was proposed by the city commission in a recent workshop session and a delegation from the board of directors agreed then to the change.

In another area, Director Jane Thompson reported she has written US Sen. Richard Stone to ask him to speak to the chamber during the annual Chamber Awards Banquet in October.

Mrs. Thompson, chairman of the banquet committee, said she hasn't heard a reply from the senator and asked for suggestions for other possible speakers if Stone can't come.

Milton Carpenter said one name which might be considered would be former President Gerald Ford. He said he had recently attended a conference where Ford was the featured speaker although he said he has no idea whether the former President charges to appear or not.

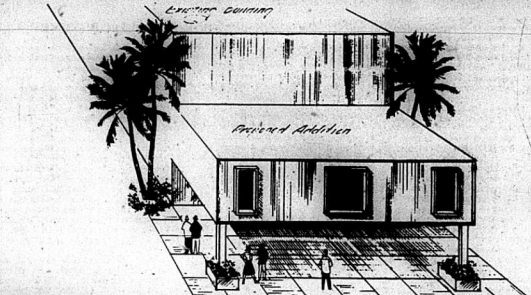

Other names mentioned as possibilities included Public Service Commission Chairman Paula Hawkins, and State Senate President Philip Lewis.

Stapp also told the directors to be thinking about who they want to nominate for new directors for next year. He said he would ask each of the directors to come up with three names next month to replace the four outgoing directors. Outgoing directors are Joseph Hughes, Michael Wilson, Dr. Cecil Conley and John Turnbull. According to the rules, there must be at least one year waiting period after a full term before a director can be re-elected. Hughes would be eligible for re-election because he has served less than a full year in place of former director Edward Duda.

Once the nominations are received, ballots will be mailed to the general membership and the first four vote getters will take their seats on the board with the next four serving as alternate members.

THE FORMER MOVIE THEATRE, Prince Theatre, in Pahokee is the subject of a committee and other persons, working to transform it into an up-to-date auditorium for entertainment and cultural events. The above drawing is an approximated artist's sketch of the rear of the building. The proposed addition indicated will provide dressing rooms within and a patio beneath. The existing building extends to Main Street where the front entrance is located. Fund raising drives are presently being undertaken to raise $50,000 for a 50-50 matching grant with the county for the renovation project.

Appeal made for donations

BELLE GLADE — Noting that the renovated Prince Theatre would be an attraction for the entire Glades area, Harriet Seldes, chairperson of the renovation committee, called on the Belle Glade Rotarians to help support the project financially.

"She gave the club a brief history of the events that led up to the idea of a 'multi-functional cultural center' that is planned for the theater and told the Rotarians about what is planned for the building.

The Prince Theatre is located in Pahokee and has not been used for the past 12 years. It was donated to the city by Gold-Dubrow and the Renovation Committee formed to restore and renovate the structure.

Mrs. Seldes said a brochure is now being done which will further explain the plans for the building. Included in those plans are an expanded stage, permanent seating in the balcony and a great deal of interior and exterior work.

She said the total cost of the renovation is approximately $158,000 and that the committee's present goal is $50,000. This money will be used to provide matching funds for a grant of $50,000 from the county, if the county agrees to the grant.

Several different groups have already asked about using the theater for free plays and concerts, but Mrs. Seldes said she had to turn them down as the building isn't ready.

So far, she noted, the committee has raised around $5,000 and financial help is greatly appreciated.

The committee is also selling "memberships" for $100 to $500 and the memberships will be limited to 450 people and organizations.

Members of the Prince Theatre will be granted certain privileges not given to the general public. For more information, contact Mrs. Seldes at Circle S Pharmacy in Pahokee.

Bassmasters' Father's Day tournament is successful

BELLE GLADE—Father's Day dawned overcast and windy for the group of men, women and children gathered on the dock at J-Mark Fish Camp. But well before first light, the group had been busy preparing for a bass tournament.

At first glance, it appeared to be a regular bass tournament. Men adjusted the drags on expensive bait-casting outfits and sharpened the hooks of plugs laid out in neat rows in massive tackle boxes.

That was first glance. Closer inspection revealed less expensive and certainly less complex spin-cast outfits resting in the bass boats and with equal vigor, 12 youngsters initiated the group.

It was the beginning of the first Belle Glade Bassmaster's Father's Day Tournament and the main participants would be the sons, young friends, and in one case, the daughter of the club members.

Member Doug Bowe originated the idea a couple of months ago and brought it up before the club. As in many organizations, Doug was told the idea was good and since it was his idea, he should carry through with it.

The club decided that each of the young participants should receive a trophy. Nine phone calls resulted in enough money from nine businesses that this was taken care of easily.

The sponsors wound up being Satellite Products, Original Equipment Parts, Pioneer Motors, Power Brake and Springs, Fuswell, Inc., Lake Hardware, Bob's Auto and Truck Parts, Watson Ford and May's Bait and Tackle.

In addition to the children's trophies, each sponsor received a plaque from the club thanking it for help in the tournament.

The contestants were John Davis and his son David, Tom Walker and his daughter Loui, the only girl entered; Sammy Campbell and his son Teddy; G.F. McMillan and Wade McMillan; Doug Bowe and Timmy Kelly; Jimmy McMillan and Warren McMillan; Holmes Farris and John Whatley; Gene Redd and his son Chris; Bob Allen and Edward Mikowsky; Angel Arnes and Jesus Sardina; and Carlos Allred and Kent Bilodeau.

And as in any bass tournament, when the "Go" was given, the boats raced away from J-Mark's docks to favored fishing holes.

Fifteen minutes later, Warren McMillan seemingly assured himself of first place by reeling in a six pound bigmouth. Things continued to pick up from there, despite the high winds and a squall or two.

The winds kicked up some pretty healthy seas in Lake Okeechobee, causing at least one young angler to turn green and head back for the hill.

But most stuck it out and at noon, the boats began to congregate back at J-Mark for the weigh-in.

Warren indeed had won the tournament, though he had fewer fish than some of the other boats. His big largemouth helped tally his pounds at just over 11 with second place scaling about eight.

John Kelly, Jr. was the second place winner followed by Timmy Kelly, third; Teddy Campbell, fourth and John Whatley, fifth.

But all received their trophy and a selection of lures and plastic worms donated by May's Bait and Tackle.

Next year, the Bassmasters hope to hold the tournament again, but a few rule changes may be initiated.

One of these could be that any fish, bass or otherwise, could count.

Even mudfish. And they were biting fairly well for at least one young fisherman.

Sports

WARREN McMILLAN holds the six pound, one ounce bigmouth that helped him win the Bassmaster's Father's Day Tournament Sunday.

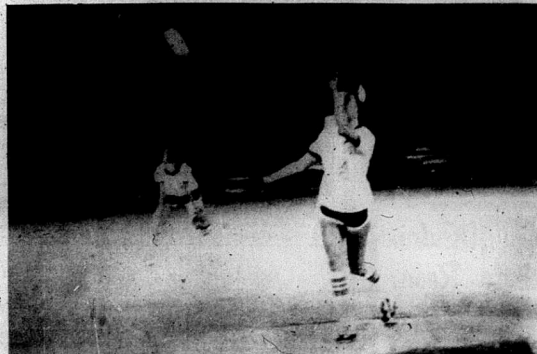

EVERY TOURNAMENT BASS FISHERMAN knows the proof of the pudding is the weigh-in and the Father's Day tournament was no different. John Kelly, Jr. watches his father weigh his catch while Doug Bowe looks on.

EVERYBODY was a winner in the Belle Glade Bassmaster's Father's Day fishing tournament Sunday. Trophies were given to each of the twelve contestants along with a package of plastic worms and a lure donated by May's Bait and Tackle. Participants receiving trophies included Teddy Campbell, John Kelly, Warren McMillan, Timmy Kelly, John Whatley, David Davis, Wade McMillan, Kent Bilodeau, Loui Walker, Jesus Sardina, Edward Mikowsky and Chris Redd.

Softball continues

I THINK I'VE GOT IT! Janie Preist, pitcher for the Community Methodist Church in Belle Glade, has her eye on catching that ball for an out in a game against Dixie Fried Chicken of Belle Glade. These two teams are part of the Woman's Softball League of Pahokee and Belle Glade. Numerous women softball games are played in Canal Point nightly. Staff Photo

Wild hog project is discussed

Public meetings to discuss the Game & Fresh Water Fish Commission's plan to establish wild hog research projects in the J.W. Corbett and Everglades Wildlife Management Areas have been rescheduled to accommodate the interest generated in the proposed studies.

Wildlife biologists will present their recommendations for the Corbett area on Monday, July 10 at the Palm Beach Junior College Auditorium, 4200 S. Congress Avenue, Lake Worth, at 8 p.m. Biologists will preview plans to use a portion of the Corbett area to study wild hog movements, productivity, food habits, their effect on the environment and the effects of hunting pressure. The plan also calls for the closing of certain sections of Corbett to dog hunting.

The second meeting will discuss proposed wild hog dispersal studies in the Everglades area and will be held on Tuesday, July 18, at the Department of Transportation Building, 780 SW 24th Street (S.R. 84) in Ft. Lauderdale. The meeting will begin at 8 p.m.

An integrated system using tagging methods and radio-tracking equipment will be utilized during the two research programs.

Sportmen concerned about the future of wild hog management and hunting in Corbett and the Everglades are encouraged to attend the meetings.

Fish are still biting

Early morning and late afternoon fishing continues good in the Belle Glade area of Lake Okechobee.

Gene and Sue Chestnut of Ft. Lauderdale limited out on bass in three hours fishing on Saturday using Mean Green plastic worms. This same couple reported 10 more on Sunday morning.

Local teenager Jimmy McMillan has taken near limit catches of bass almost every day for the last week.

Al Propper of Belle Glade reported his limit of bluegills on crickets Friday and again on Saturday. Bill and Evelyn Watson of Ft. Lauderdale reported their limits of bluegills on Saturday and Sunday for a total of 200 over the weekend. Bill also took 5 bass in the 3 to 5 pound range.
